WASHINGTONIANS who remained in the city through July to take their rest and vacation in August may regret it, for no season more delightful than Washington is this month.

The steaming hot days of last month are almost forgotten in the beautiful warm days and crisp cool nights. Baked humanity has revived.

Mrs. Winthrop, wife of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, who has spent the summer in town, went North the last day of July for fear of the continuance of fierce heat, and is with her mother, Mrs. John D. Wood, of Brooklyn, at one of the Long Island resorts until Mr. Winthrop joins her. Mrs. Huntington Wilson, wife of the Assistant Secretary of State, who has braved the worst of the summer to remain with her husband in town, is now receiving the reward of virtue, for the days are ideal for driving and tea drinking.

There will be a tiny rift in the cloud of social depression in Washington early next month, when the President comes from Beverly to spend perhaps a few days at the White House. He is expected to be here September 7, and it is expected that he will call a short meeting of the members of his Cabinet. They have been separated widely and for a long time. Of course, the Secretary of War, Mr. Dickinson, will be too far away to run in for the meeting, for he is in Europe with his party, on his way home from the Philippines. None of the women of the Cabinet circle will come down here with their husbands, as the men will stay only as long as it is necessary.

The Turkish Ambassador is still in town. There will be many changes in the diplomatic corps at the beginning of the season, the most notable in the legation from Ecuador. The new Minister, Dr. Don Rafael Maria Arizaga, has an entirely new staff, all the members of which are strangers in Washington. The diplomatic list has a different appearance with the Carbons, formerly accredited to Ecuador, absent. The former Minister and Mme. Carbo have three beautiful and interesting daughters, all of whom were presented to society during the past three seasons, and their two sons were first and second secretaries of the legation. They will continue their residence in Washington this season.

The interesting school, daughters of the late Minister from Norway, and Mme. Gude, widow of the Minister, will be greatly missed. They are again in their own country, and Mr. Gude's successor has been appointed in Mr. H. H. Bryn, who was councillor of the Norwegian Legation in Paris. He has not arrived here.

The most interesting bride and bridegroom this year in the diplomatic corps will be Mr. and Mrs. Boris de Struve, of the Russian Embassy. Mme. de Struve was Miss Eleanor Slater, of this city. Miss Slater was presented to Washington society two years ago, and was a belle of that season. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Slater, of Providence, R. I. Mr. de Struve and Miss Slater were married last fall in Europe, and have remained abroad ever since. They returned to this country last month and have been at the Slater summer home, at Beverly, Mass. Mme. de Struve was regarded as one of the greatest heiresses in Washington society when she was presented at a brilliant ball.

Lieut. von Bruegel, of the German Embassy, and Signor Gabriele Preziosi, attaché of the Italian Embassy, and Prince Henri de Ligne, attaché of the Belgian Legation, have been replaced.

Mr. Arosemena, the popular bachelor Minister from Panama, left Monday for New York and San Francisco, N. J., to visit Mr. William Nelson Cromwell, and today will go to Camden, Me., to visit Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Neale, of this city, in their summer home. Mr. Arosemena will return here the last of this month and start, with his staff, to attend the centennial celebration in Mexico as representative of the Panama government.

Mr. Thomas C. Dawson, the newly appointed United States Minister to Panama, returned the past week from New York and Beverly, where he went with the party to greet the President of Chile and Mme. Montt. Mr. Dawson, accompanied by Mrs. Dawson and their three children, will give up their home here in Park road and go to Mr. Dawson's new post of duty about September 5.

The rumored engagement of Postmaster General Hitchcock to Mrs. Joseph Stickney, of New York and London, is of great interest on both sides of the Atlantic. Mrs. Stickney is little known in Washington, except to the small colony who spend a part of each year in London. Her home in the British capital is one of the favorite gathering places for the men and women of London's smartest and most exclusive society. Mrs. Stickney was one of the conspicuous figures at the diplomatic reception at the White House last winter, the first state reception of the Taft administration. She was the house guest of Mrs. F. B. Crowninshield, daughter of Senator du Pont, of Delaware, and divided honors with Mrs. Potter Palmer, who was Mrs. MacVeagh's guest, for beauty.
